SUITS AGAINST JAMES STILLMAN BEFORE JUDGES

Canadian Asks Large Damages From Former N. Y. Banker

New York, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Decision on a motion asking the appearance of James A. Stillman for examination before trial in a contemplated libel action growing out of a suit for alienation of affections brought by a one-time candidate for Mayor of Montreal against the former New York banker was pending in the Supreme Court in Brooklyn today.

No complaint in either action had been filed in court and the basis of the suits was disclosed only yesterday when attorneys for Luc Rochefort, a French-Canadian asked for an order permitting him to examine Stillman concerning matters relating to the libel suit.

Affidavits submitted on behalf of the defendant showed that Rochefort accused Stillman of alienating the affections of Mrs. Marjorie A. Rochefort, wife of the plaintiff. The sum asked by Rochefort was reported to be $1,000,000, but this could not be confirmed.

Thought Her Single.

The man who once was the husband of the present Mrs. Fowler McCormick of Chicago denied in the affidavit he knew Mrs. Rochefort was married when their association began last spring, and accused Rochefort not only of knowing of the friendship, but of secretly encouraging it, and accepting from his wife "substantial sums of money" which Stillman had given her. The libel action is based on statements gathered as defense material for use in the alienation action.

Malcolm C. Sumner, counsel for Stillman, opposed yesterday's motion and characterized both suits as a deliberate attempt to intimidate the former banker and extort from him a large sum of money in settlement in order to forestall litigation and publicity. Stillman is said to be in Havana.

ATTORNEY FOR HALLORAN MADE PLEA FOR WOMAN

Asks that Mrs. Judd's Counsel Be Allowed In Court

Phoenix, Ariz., Jan. 19.—(AP)—Counsel for John J. Halloran tossed a surprise into court at a continuance today of the lumberman's preliminary hearing on a charge of being "accessory to the crime of murder," with an appeal that Winnie Ruth Judd, Halloran's chief accuser, be "not deprived of her rights" of advice by counsel in court.

With tears in his eyes and his voice at times choked with apparent emotion, Frank O. Smith, Halloran's attorney, informed the court he had been proceeding under a misapprehension regarding the condemned woman's status in court.

He withdrew all previous requirements he had made that Mrs. Judd's counsel be excluded from the court room, or that she herself be excluded during testimony of other witnesses.

"I have a duty to perform for Jack Halloran. I do not represent Mrs. Judd—but God knows she needs counsel," Smith said.

Mrs. Judd was on the witness stand when Smith made his appeal to the court to so after proceedings that Mrs. Judd have the advice of her attorneys and her husband throughout the remainder of the hearing.

The condemned woman, who has sparred with Smith for two days appeared somewhat dazed by the turn of affairs.

INTENDED HEAD OF CLINIC HERE BADLY INJURED

Wife and Companions Of Dr. C. C. Rowley Were Killed

Dr. W. G. Murray, managing officer of the Dixon state hospital, has been advised that Dr. C. C. Rowley of Chicago, famous physician, who was to have had charge of the newly-formed state clinic for treatment of cases of sleeping sickness at the Dixon institution, will be unable to take up his duties here for some time.

Dr. Rowley is now a hospital patient, recovering from injuries he sustained in a tragic automobile accident between Springfield and Chaster, in which three persons, including his wife, were killed. The party of four—Dr. and Mrs. Rowley and a married couple—were traveling in the doctor's car, which his wife was driving, when it left the pavement and turned over.

Three Killed, Six Shot in Indiana Gun Battle

Matching his shotgun and revolver against 100 men using nearly all the equipment of modern warfare, Michael Lantare, right below, a farmer near Gary, Ind., fought for five hours as hundreds of machine-gun bullets poured into his home. When the battle was over, three men were dead, including Lantare, and six others were wounded. Lantare's fire killed Sheriff Roy Holley, left below, when the sheriff went to Lantare's home to arrest him for the murder of a neighbor, Louis Boettner, in an argument. The picture above shows the end of the siege, with Lantare's fort in flames. Lantare's two daughters witnessed the gun battle from a safe place behind the besiegers.

Dixie Honored Most Beloved Of Its Heroes Today

Atlanta, Jan. 19.—(AP)—The south had kind words and hallowed memories today for its most beloved hero—Gen. Robert Edward Lee, the warrior who hated wars, the Virginian who shunned honors from his country to lead his state in a losing cause.

This is the birthday of Marston Robert. And the south came today to pay tribute to his memory. It was he who led a starving army in a hopeless war against the Union, and it was he who blessed the Union as he ordered his ragged hosts back to their homes when the end came.

It's jubilee week for celebration of natal days, Edgar Allen Poe, whose pen the south loves as it does the sword of Lee, was born on this day in 1809. Lee was born in 1807. Matthew Fountaine Maury, the pathfinder of the seas, was born this week in 1806, and General Stonewall Jackson was born Jan. 21, 1824.

There were thousands of Lee exercises today. School boys made little speeches and girls read poems. Platforms were decorated with the nation's flags and of course there were flags with stars and bars—the emblem of a nation that died at birth.

Isaac Berei Was Called This Morn

Isaac Berei passed away at his home east of the city last evening after an illness of several months duration. The deceased was born in Hungary, Feb. 1877, coming to the vicinity of Dixon in 1904 where he has since resided. He is survived by his wife, two daughters, Mrs. Martin S. Springer of Dixon, Miss Caroline and three sons, Joseph, Louis and Stephen at home. Funeral services will be conducted from St. Paul's Lutheran church Saturday afternoon at 2:30. Rev. Lloyd W. Walter officiating and with interment in Oakwood.

MENDOTA CLOTHING STORE WAS ROBBED IN NIGHT: TWO OF TRIO OF ROBBERS CAUGHT IN JOLIET

Joliet, Ill., Jan. 19.—(AP)—A 50-mile chase across five counties ended in a gun fight in Joliet's residential district today with a Joliet policeman shot and two wounded robbers under arrest.

Word reached Aurora that three men took $1,000 worth of suits from a clothing store in Mendota, Ill. and headed toward Chicago. Aurora police shot at their automobile but succeeded only in turning them toward Joliet.

A Joliet police car was stationed on the Aurora highway. The robbers' car whizzed past. The chase began at the association's exchange or at the stores of merchants who have agreed to co-operate with the association.

Benjamin J. Stringham, president of the association, believes his organization will show that it is possible for society to function entirely without a "price system."

Terse Items Of News Gathered In Dixon During Day

CASE CONTINUED

Mrs. Mabel Stauffer appeared before County Judge Leech yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock with her attorney and her trial on a liquor violation charge was continued until February 25 by agreement of counsel.

HEARS DIVORCE PLEA

A hearing in the divorce action brought by Mrs. Anna Hughes against Frank M. Hughes of this city was begun before Judge Harry Edwards this morning. Attorneys went into a conference before the hearing was disposed of.

FIRE ALARM AT NOON

The fire department was called at 12 o'clock noon today to the corner of First street and Hennepin avenue. An automobile belonging to Edward O'Connell backfired, setting fire to the carburetor but the blaze was extinguished without damage to the car.

NEW STATE PRINTER

Charles Thompson, formerly president of the Chicago Athletic Assn., has been named by Gov. Henry Horner as State Supt. of Printing, succeeding Hiram L. Williamson, one of the best known men in the state, whose resignation was announced recently in The Telegraph.

LICENSED TO WED

The following marriage licenses have been issued by County Clerk Fred G. Dimick: Tony L. Thompson and Miss Mildred Fleming, both of Brooklyn township; Charles V. Sharkey and Miss Margaret C. Full both of May township; John Luft of Keenesburg, Colo., and Miss Pauline Epp of Roswell, S. D.

BROTHER-IN-LAW DEAD

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fisher this morning received word of the death of their brother-in-law, Samuel Emmons, Wednesday morning at his home in western Iowa, death being due to pneumonia. The funeral of Mr. Emmons, who formerly lived in this community, will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Garden Prairie.

CAR ABANDONED

The new Plymouth sedan belonging to Hiram Graybill was abandoned.

Hiram Graybill Passed Away At Early Hour Today

Hiram Graybill passed away at his home, 1206 Third street, this morning at 4:30 o'clock. He had been in failing health for two years and his passing brought to a close a great deal of suffering. He did not complain, however, and through all his sickness manifested a cheerful disposition which was characteristic of his entire life.

He was born in Lancaster, Pa., February 3, 1858, and would have been 75 years of age had he lived until February 3. He leaves to mourn his passing his wife and one brother, Philip Graybill of Curtis, Ohio.

Mr. Graybill came with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Graybill, to Polo, at the age of 11 years from Lancaster county, Pa. He was united in marriage to Ellen Allen, December 25, 1901, in Polo, where they resided for three years, when they moved to Dixon where they since made their home.

Funeral services will be conducted from the Staples chapel Saturday afternoon at 1:30. Rev. William E. Thompson, pastor of the Brethren church of this city officiating. Interment will be in the Fairmount cemetery east of Polo.

Mrs. John Lally Of Marion Called

Mrs. John Lally passed away this morning at 2 o'clock at her home in Marion township, death resulting from an illness of several weeks duration. Hannah Grimes was born in Wheatley, Iowa, and has been a resident of Marion township for the past 45 years. She is survived by her husband, six daughters: Mrs. Frank McCoy of Marion, Mrs. P. H. Fane of Dixon, Mrs. Lee Downey of Chicago, Mrs. Albert Gehant of West Brooklyn, Mrs. Harold Dempsey of Rockford, Miss Catherine at home; and two sons, Raymond of Chicago and Patrick at home.

Funeral services will be conducted from the late home Saturday morning at 9 o'clock and from St. Mary's Catholic church in Walton at 9:30 with interment in Oakwood cemetery, this city.

Trades Two Calves For Ten-Cent Cigar—

Kewanee, Wis. Jan. 19.—(AP)—Fred Post, dairy farmer, near Ellisville, believes he got the best of a bargain when he received a ten-cent cigar in trade for two Holstein calves. A Green Bay, Wis., butcher handed him the cigar when Post asked how much he would give for the calves. It was a good cigar, Post later boasted to friends.

NEXT PRESIDENT IN CAPITAL FOR SERIES CONFABS

Will Meet Pres. Hoover Tomorrow On Foreign Affairs

Washington, Jan. 19.—(AP)—President-elect Roosevelt comes to the National Capital today to see for himself the piled-up heap of vital domestic and international problems facing his administration.

During an overnight stay he will make an attack on them in a round of conferences which include a meeting with President Hoover at the White House at 10 A. M. (CST) tomorrow.

Soon after his arrival at 2:15 P. M. today a steady stream of Democratic leaders in Congress will call at his hotel suite to outline the legislative situation and lay plans for an extra session which probably will be called between April 10 and 17.

Then on Friday morning he will present himself at the Executive Mansion he will occupy after March 4, for a second conference with Mr. Hoover since the November elections. The far eastern crisis involving the clash between Japan and China seemed to be the subject of first moment.

To Hear Of Filibuster

The muddled congressional situation will be explained in detail to Mr. Roosevelt by his party chieftains, an explanation which very likely will include a detailed account of the Senate filibuster which has widened the breach between conservative and liberal wings of the Democratic party and tied up legislation for more than a week.

Democratic leaders now plan to salvage whatever they can from their original program for the short session and shape a new program for the extra session.

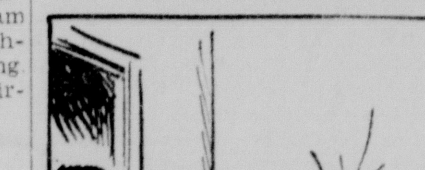

For the remaining few weeks of this session the leadership will thrust their energies behind economy proposals and attempt to obtain wide powers for the incoming President to reorganize the government when he comes in.

The White House conference is expected by responsible officials to be largely informative in nature, with Mr. Hoover supplying Mr. Roosevelt with his views to supplement the presentation made a few days ago by Secretary Stimson.

Agreed On Policy

Mr. Hoover and the President-elect are now known to be agreed on the American policy in the far east—the policy of defending the treaties which guarantee China's integrity. War debts and the proposed world economic conference also are expected to be touched upon, probably in the hope of finding some means of keeping an exchange of views on these subjects active until Mr. Roosevelt takes office.

Regarding the economic conference and disarmament questions Mr. Roosevelt has expressed agreement with the Hoover policy in the main. But foreign powers have linked debts discussions so definitely with plans for the economic parity that the experts who are trying now at Geneva to work out a program are in a deadlock.

COMMUNIST IS GIVEN PRISON TERM BY JUDGE

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 19.—(AP)—The southern crusade of Angelo Herndon, 19-year-old Cincinnati Negro Communist, has been halted by an 18-to-20-year prison sentence for attempting to incite insurrection.

Herndon was convicted here yesterday under a law Georgia passed during the troubled days of the reconstruction that followed the war. The judge, Judge Leach, said it was possible under the measure to put the jury deliberating two hours, recommending the imprisonment.

Attorneys for Herndon, two Atlanta Negroes, said they would file motion for a new trial today. Herndon, who had come south with a message of Communism, said nothing. Judge Leach said "I think the sentence thoroughly justifiable."

The jury was all white and the defense contended this fact tended to unfairness of trial charging Negroes were excluded from jury service.

The state based its case on Herndon's possession of a quantity of literature distributed by the Communist party, U. S. A., of which he was an organizer, and argued the Negro had wilful intent to overthrow the government.

Directors Of Dixon Chamber Of Commerce Condemn "Garage" Deal; Resent Attack On Telegraph Editor

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce, held at the Chamber office Wednesday evening, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, the Sterling Daily Gazette, through the columns of its paper, is attempting to divert the public mind from the real issue, by its personal and abusive attack on the Editor of the Evening Telegraph who has rendered an extraordinary service to the taxpayers of Illinois by exposing the flagrant misuse of public funds in the purchase of the Fort Dearborn foundry at Rock Falls, and

WHEREAS, Editor Shaw is expressing the sentiment of the outraged citizenry, not only in this city, but practically everywhere in this entire section of northern Illinois, and

WHEREAS, as publicity given this questionable transaction was at the instance of the taxpayers of this community,

THEREFORE, be it resolved that we commend the Evening Telegraph for the publication of the facts pertaining to the sale of the Fort Dearborn foundry building at Rock Falls, which we trust will be investigated by the proper authorities.

Transfusion Has Had No Effect On "Sleeping Beauty"

Chicago, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Medical science is going to make another attempt to awaken Patricia McGuire, 37-year-old Oak Park, Ill., girl, asleep now more than 11 months.

To date no sign of returning consciousness have been observed as result of a transfusion given the pretty brunette last Sunday with blood drawn from the arm of her step-father, Peter Milley.

Acting on the same principle as a serum or vaccine, it is hoped that the blood from a former victim of "sleeping sickness," already selected by the doctors, might have the power to aid Patricia to combat her illness.

In a little yellow-painted wood house, sandwiched in between similar dwellings, a drama is being enacted that has drawn medical attention the country over.

Stricken without warning, and from no reason that has been determined, Patricia lapsed into unconsciousness on a Sunday while preparing for church. She had complained for several days before of being so "sleepy."

"SNEEZER" RECOVERS

Chippewa Falls, Wis., Jan. 19.—(AP)—Apparently fully recovered from a rare sneezing affliction, Daisy Jost, 16-year-old orphan, was rapidly regaining in strength at the St. Joseph's hospital here today. The sneezes which occurred as many as four times a minute when she became ill more than a week ago have stopped entirely. Dr. William Henske, attending physician, said she would leave the hospital soon.

Georgia Jury Found Cincinnati Negro Guilty, Wednes.

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 19.—(AP)—The southern crusade of Angelo Herndon, 19-year-old Cincinnati Negro Communist, has been halted by an 18-to-20-year prison sentence for attempting to incite insurrection.

CONSERVATOR IS NAMED FOR AGED AMBOYITE TODAY

Orders Issued In Several Cases Before Judge Leech

Evidence that a woman, who had four previous husbands was paying attention to Julian Fenner, aged 70 of Amboy, resulted in a petition being filed before Judge Leech in the county court asking the appointment of a conservator of the man. Fred Witt, a nephew, filed the petition and following a hearing before a jury, Witt was named conservator, when it was shown that Fenner was distracted and incapable of transacting his own business affairs.

The will of the late Douglas Worsley of Amboy has been probated in the County Court, together with proof of heirship and Mark F. Worsley, father of the deceased, was appointed administrator. The estate was valued at $30,000 and the widow and two children, Jeanette, aged six, and Marilyn, aged two, were named as heirs.

The will of the late Mrs. Abby Taber of Paw Paw, who passed away Jan. 6, at her home, was disregarded on a petition filed by Mrs. Mary A. Neir and George B. Taber, only surviving children. George Taber was granted letters of administration in the estate which is valued at $30,000. A relinquishment of any claim under the will also filed by Frank Wheeler, who was appointed executor in the will.

February 6 is the date set by Judge Leech for the probating of the will of Mrs. Mary Newman of this city who passed away August 15, 1932. Attorney Willard Jones was requested to serve as executor when a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Nicol, declined appointment. Mrs. Nicol of Sterling, Mrs. Edna Nelson and Mrs. Mary Hannah of the estate which is valued at $1,500.

Joseph Kennedy was appointed administrator of the estate of Charles Erickson, deceased, former resident of Lee.

Robbery, Theft Reported Today

Sheriff Fred Richardson went to Franklin Grove this morning to investigate a robbery which occurred at the Kemp service station on the Lincoln Highway during the night. The service station was broken into, cigarettes and a kit of tools taken. A lock was broken off a gasoline pump and several gallons of gasoline removed.

Deputy Ward Miller was called to Fairville this morning to conduct an investigation into the reported theft of a gasoline engine. A. L. Livingston purchased the engine at the Thompson public sale yesterday and left it on the premises, expecting to call for it this morning. The engine was reported to have been taken during the night.

Want To Say "It Is Me"—Go Ahead—

Columbus, O., Jan. 19.—(AP)—"Don't correct yourself when you say 'it is me.'"

That expression has the approval of the Dean of English at Ohio State University.

"There's too much of the schoolmaster in the American language," says Dean George H. McKnight. "It is me" is a natural use of the expression and is much to be preferred over "it is I."

IT CAME AFTER CLOTURE MOVE WAS DEFEATED

The House Gets Ready To Kill President's Economy Move

Washington, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Volunteer action succeeded where force failed in the Senate today, and the protracted filibuster against the Glass bank bill gave way.

By a lone vote the attempt of the Democratic leadership to impose cloture—cutting debate very sharply—lost out. The count was 38 for to 30 against, meaning defeat as the margin fell short of the required two-thirds.

There followed a turbulent scene of exchanges between Robinson, the Democratic floor leader; his foe and filibuster chieftain—Huey Long of Louisiana; and another filibuster—Thomas of Oklahoma.

Once quiet settled, Senator W. E. Borah (R. Idaho) proposed the unanimous consent agreement to restrict each Senator to speak one hour on the bill and half an hour on amendments.

It went through amid applause.

How Senate Divided

Thirty-four Democrats and 24 Republicans voted for cloture. Twenty Republicans joined nine Democrats and the one Farmer-Labor Senator, Shipstead of Minnesota, against it.

Both Senators from Illinois favored cloture, Glenn casting his vote for it and Lewis being paired in its favor.

In the clearer atmosphere of the House, the united Democrats brought on their resolution to kill President Hoover's regrouping of government departments, so that the job may be later placed in the hands of his successor. Approval of the resolution was certain.

Democratic leaders of that branch also laid out plans to take up at the special session in the spring a program for elimination of double taxation. The general idea is to have the federal government levy, for instance, all tobacco taxes, handing over a percentage to the states. Gasoline and other taxes would be treated similarly.

Farm Bill Dying

The farm allotment bill appeared in for a slow death in the Senate Agriculture committee. Chairman McNary said it would be much simplified before reappearing in the Senate, but many members feeling a veto certain indicated little disposition to act in this session.

More rewriting was done by the House Judiciary committee on bankruptcy legislation, but no bill was reported. A new avalanche of favorable testimony was collected by other committees on the five-day week plan, while opinion was divided on a bill by Senator George of Georgia to give public school Reconstruction Corporation loans to meet running expenses.

Island independence bobbed up again, this time the Virgin Islands being the candidates, but their Lieutenant Governor told a House committee that there was no demand for freedom in the Caribbean possession.

Frank Anderson Of Ohio Station Dead

(Telegraph Special Service)

Amboy, Jan. 19.—Frank F. Anderson, prominent citizen of Ohio, passed away at his home in that city late Wednesday evening after an extended illness of over a year's duration. He was born in East Grove township, Lee county, April 13, 1869, the son of Penwick and Janette Peck Anderson and was about 64 years of age. He was an active and successful farmer until about 12 years ago when he retired and moved to Ohio to make his home and where he has since resided.

He is survived by his wife, Agnes Sheehan Anderson; one son, Charles of Ohio; and one daughter, Mrs. George Welty of Marion township, Lee county. Several grandchildren, six brothers and one sister also survive. Funeral services will be held Saturday morning at the Church of the Immaculate Conception in Ohio, Rev. Fr. Kern officiating, with interment in St. Mary's cemetery in East Grove township.

Lee Co. Relief Commission May Again Be Needed

Information has been received by the Lee County Emergency Relief Commission that there is a strong possibility that it may be called upon to function again very soon because a suit has been started in Sangamon county to enjoin the state from using gasoline tax money for unemployment relief. If this suit is successful it will be necessary for counties to find other means of financing unemployment relief and may result in a serious situation. All agencies distributing food and fuel and other relief and all persons receiving such aid are cautioned to use the utmost discretion and observe all possible saving in the use of supplies.

Chicago Is Swept
By Gale-Like Wind

Chicago, Jan. 19—(AP)—A 59-mile-an-hour wind swept along Chicago lake front today, bowled over sign boards, shattered windows and tied up electric train service to the suburbs.
The gale followed a night of warm rain which brought sheets of green grass to parks and lawns. Power lines were blown down on the electric suburban service of the Illinois Central Railroad and trains had to be rerouted.
Motorists reported their automobiles could make only slow progress against the wind along the lake front.

Kincaid Chief
Is Denied Bond

Taylorville, Ill., Jan. 19—(AP)—The Kincaid, Ill. Chief of Police, Albert Mattozo, and Emil du Pire were in jail today awaiting trial on charges of murder for their alleged part in the mine war shooting in Kincaid recently.
Bail was denied the pair yesterday by Circuit Judge William B. Wright when they were arraigned with seven others indicted by the grand jury.
Judge Wright admitted the others to bail on bonds of $12,500 each, $8,000 on a charge of murder, $4,000 on a charge of assault with intent to murder, and $500 on a charge of inciting a riot.

Yes, Sir—Head Over Heels In Love!

After being tossed from a horse and landing in a Philadelphia hospital, a young sportsman who described himself as H. Montgomery Vander-Pool, son of a millionaire rancher of Corpus Christi, Tex., declared he had renounced his heritage to pay court to Miss Elsie M. Clark, with whom he's pictured here. Cut off from a parental allowance, he declared he had sold his string of polo ponies to finance the courtship, and had been a guest in the Germantown home of Miss Clark's mother.

REGULATIONS
IN PREPARATION

Will Be Made Public
After Approval By Secretary Mills

Washington, Jan. 19—(AP)—Regulations under which approximately 2,600,000 citizens will pay tax on March 15th on their 1932 income are being prepared by the Internal Revenue Bureau.
The regulations will set forth just what taxes paid by the taxpayer can be deducted from gross income in making out the returns and what taxes can not be deducted. Until the regulations have been approved by Secretary Mills they will not be made public.

Heretofore the Bureau has ruled that a taxpayer can deduct only the taxes collected from him by the state or government. Under this ruling, if continued in force, most of the excise taxes levied under the billion dollar tax bill cannot be deducted for those taxes are levied on the manufacturer.
The billion dollar tax bill increases income taxes from one and one half per cent, three per cent and five per cent to four per cent on the first four thousand of net income and eight per cent on all income above that amount. The surtax starts at $6,000 of net income whereas under the former law it started at $10,000.

Under the new law the exemptions are lowered to $1,000 for single person and $2,500 for a married person.

Son Of Deceased
Policeman Killed

Chicago, Jan. 19—(AP)—Edward Fitzsimmons, 32, son of Policeman Michael J. Fitzsimmons who died last year, was found dead with a bullet hole between his eyes on a county highway near the Indiana line today.

His young widow identified the body by tattoo marks including her first name, Mabel. She said he was an unemployed cable splicer for the Commonwealth Edison Co. He had no enemies, she said.

This Story Will Arouse Sympathy

Wolf Island, Mo., Jan. 19—(AP)—Between the heavy rumblings of a thunder storm and the roaring of two lions, the members of Denver M. Wright's lion hunting party had little sleep last night.

Up to last night the two lions had been fairly passive in their cages, but when the lightning flashed and the thunder crashed across the sandy little island where the party are encamped, the felines set up a sleep-shattering hubbub.

Meanwhile Wright is firm in his decision not to release the lions until the willow growths on the island have dried out.

"Dressing Up," the Ordinary Vegetables

Unusual ways of preparing everyday vegetables are specially welcomed at this time of the year. The following recipes may be new to you and help you to add variety to your daily menus. Served with a plain green salad and a dessert some of the dishes are a full meal in themselves. The added material increases the number of calories and the food value of the vegetable substantially in most instances.

In order to give you a working basis of the calorie value, the calories of each recipe have been carefully calculated. With this knowledge you can plan the rest of your meal.

Mashed Parsnip Ring

Eight or ten parsnips of fair sized tablespoons bacon drippings, 1-2 teaspoon paprika, 1-2 teaspoon white pepper, 1 egg, 2 tablespoons vinegar, 1-2 cup cracker crumbs, 1 cup flaked fish, 3 tablespoons butter, 3 tablespoons flour, 2 cups milk, parsley.

Scrub and scrape parsnips. Cut in halves lengthwise and cook in boiling salted water until tender. It will take about thirty minutes, depending on the size and age. Put through a ricer and add bacon drippings, paprika, pepper and cracker crumbs. Beat egg with vinegar and add to parsnip mixture. Cook over the fire, stirring constantly until egg is set. Arrange on a hot platter in a mound and make a depression in the center. Fill with fish heated in cream sauce and garnish with parsley. To make the sauce, melt butter, stir in flour and when bubbling slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Bring to

WHO HATH A BOOK

WHO hath a book hath friends at hand,
And gold and gear at his command;
And rich estates, if he but look,
Are held by him who hath a book.

Who hath a book may fight or sing,
Or ride or rule—do anything.
And he may dwell in humble hut
Or palace, ere the book is shut.

Who hath a book hath but to read
And he may be a king indeed.
His kingdom is his inglenook—
All this is his who hath a book.

Who hath a book should thank the Lord
Because he may a book afford;
And in his prayer this clause is due
Lord, bless the men who write books, too—

—Wilbur D. Nesbit

Ladies G. A. R. Meeting Monday

The Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic, Circle No. 73, met in the G. A. R. hall, Monday evening, January 1. The meeting was called to order by the new president, Etta Baker. All new officers, except Mrs. Lillian Harper, who is ill with the flu, attended the meeting. The secretary, Florence O'Brien, read the minutes of the last two meetings in her usual perfect manner. There was a large attendance of members, including one charter and one honorary member. The chaplain, Mrs. Grace Smith, who was unable to be at the regular installation, was installed at this meeting. Her daughters, the Misses Mable and Ella Smith, acted as installing officers. After the business meeting, Mrs. Addie Eastman gave a reading, entitled "What Our Forefathers Had to Do Without." The patriotic instructor, Viola E. Strub, gave a reading on the "Life of President McKinley" in honor of his birthday, which comes this month. This brought the meeting to a close, all members planning to meet again, Feb. 6.

Buttered Toast Coffee

LUNCHEON

Celery Soup Crackers
Sugar Cookies Pear Sauce

BREAKFAST

Boston Baked Beans
Brown Bread Butter
Chili Sauce

Prune Gelatin Dessert Coffee

Boston Baked Beans

1 quart navy beans
2 quarts water
1-2 pound pork butts
2 teaspoon salt

1-2 cup molasses
1-3 cup brown sugar
1-4 teaspoon paprika
1-4 teaspoon dry mustard

1 tablespoon finely chopped onions

Wash beans. Soak over night. In morning cover and simmer very slowly until beans are tender.

Drain and reserve bean stock. Place layer of beans in bean pot. Add pork and portions of rest of ingredients. Add remaining beans and bean stock to cover. Cover tightly and bake in slow oven 4 hours. Inspect frequently and add more stock if beans seem dry. Remove lid and brown by baking 15 minutes in moderate oven.

Steamed Brown Bread

1 cup graham flour
1 cup corn meal
1 cup flour

1-3 cup sugar
2 teaspoons soda
1-2 teaspoon salt

1-2 cup molasses
1-2 cup sour milk

Mix ingredients. Beat 2 minutes. Half fill buttered molds. Cover tightly and steam 3 hours. Unmold and place in baking pan and bake

10 minutes in moderate oven. This heating dries off outside of bread.

The raisins may be omitted.

If sour milk is not available it may be quickly made sour by adding 3 tablespoons of vinegar to the sweet milk. After 4 minutes the milk will be sufficiently sour to use.

When egg yolks only are used in cake or cookie batters it is best to flavor with lemon and orange to prevent that too "eggy" taste.

Appeal for Defeat Beer Bill On Behalf of Children

Washington, Jan. 19—(AP)—Mrs. Henry W. Peabody, chairman of the Woman's National Committee for Law Enforcement, in an open letter to members of Congress today termed the Collier-Blaine beer bill "ridiculous" and appealed for its defeat on behalf of forty million children.

In a statement made public simultaneously, Mrs. Peabody said a "women's revolution" had been started in the capitals of thirty states "in active protest against their law makers."

She cited movements which were begun today at St. Paul, Minn., and which will get under way within a few days at Des Moines, Ia.; Lincoln, Neb.; Denver, Colo.; Cheyenne, Wyoming; Boise, Idaho; Salt Lake City, and other western cities by women prohibitionists who seek to defeat dry law changes.

Candlelighters In Pleasant Meeting

The Candlelighters Society of the Presbyterian church had a very pleasant meeting with Mrs. J. F. Young, Friday Assistant hostesses were Mrs. C. C. Buckaloo, Mrs. A. L. Barlow and Mrs. Norman Miller.

Phidian Art Club Meeting at H. A. Ahrens Home

The Phidian Art Club held a delightful meeting on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. A. Ahrens, attended by a large number of members and a few guests. Miss Josephine Nichols read a most interesting paper on "Decorative Light," tracing the progress from the first crude attempts to produce artificial light to the present elaborate lighting systems, which are for beauty as well as utility, and displayed several very modern and unique lamps and fixtures. Miss Nichols described modern illumination in homes, hotels and theaters, and also in the Century of Progress Exposition buildings.

Mrs. P. X. Newcomer, acting president for the afternoon, presided at the tea table, from which delicious refreshments were served.

Welfare Dept. Federated Clubs Has Opportunities for Service

Washington, D. C.—The Public Welfare Department of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, Miss Julia K. Jaffray, Chairman, has to deal with the opportunities for service which open up to the members of this great woman's organization in connection with the many agencies maintained by governments or conducted by groups of private citizens to promote the health, comfort and general well-being of our people. The department is suggesting the service club women can render toward the maintenance of standards and to formulate plans which are shaping for the development of a new and better social structure.

The Division of Child Welfare, Mrs. Donald Muir, Chairman, is interpreting the Children's Charter, the Bill of Rights for the child in every state, city, town or rural community, which was given to the nation by the White House Conference on Child Health and Protection.

The Division of Public Health, Mrs. Carl W. Illig, chairman, is calling upon the women of America to mobilize in defense of public health to prevent the slashing of national, state and local health budgets and to join national, state and municipal Health Departments in protesting against all so-called economic policies which endanger our national health.

Community Service, Mrs. Albert James chairman, is concerned with community planning and with safety on the highways and is advocating personality tests in addition to the usual tests for licenses to drive cars and the training of school children, especially young children, to avoid highway accidents.

The Division of Correction, Mrs. Arch Trawick, chairman, has three major projects:

Meeting of Riverside P. T. A. Friday

The Riverside P. T. A. met for its regular meeting last Friday evening at the school house. The meeting was called to order by the President, Mrs. William Morris.

The program started with a song "America" and followed by the lively song hit "Smiles." In the absence of T. H. McWethy the song leader, the singing was led by Elmer Whitney.

Minutes of last meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Whitney. The State President's message was read by Frank Peto.

At this time it was announced that the mothers' study group will meet on Friday afternoon, January 27 at 3:30, at the school house and all mothers and visitors are welcome.

There being no further business the meeting was turned over to the leaders for the evening, they being Leonard Stevens and Frank Peto.

Before the main program, Darlene Peto, Phyllis Gray and Jane Layton each gave a lovely musical number, and it is noticeable how much improved these girls are

THE ROCK FALLS DEAL.

Snarling bitter hatred and spouting poisonous personal abuse at the editor of the Evening Telegraph because this newspaper exposed the "Rock Falls Deal," the Sterling Gazette continues to avoid the main issue under discussion. The Telegraph maintains that the deal was put over under cover at the last moment and under circumstances that do not bear the searchlight of investigation. The Gazette's answer is a barrage of personalities and threats and mud-slinging. That seems to be their style of fighting. We believe we are doing a service to the state at large by merely stating the apparent facts in the Rock Falls deal. However, we are certainly justified in defending ourselves. The law places a limit on how far even the Sterling Gazette may go with its scurrilous inferences and innuendoes.

If the only way that The Telegraph can obtain justice for Dixon and for the taxpayers all over Illinois is for the editor to be a target for the slurs and misstatements of the Sterling Gazette it is O. K. with us. If the Sterling Gazette can make no better answer to the serious charges involved in the case than personal vilification of the editor of The Telegraph their case must be very weak indeed. What the public wants to know is how they justify the facts that have been presented in this raw Rock Falls deal.

They say the garage is "temporarily" now located at Dixon. Well, there never has been a state garage anywhere else in this district except Dixon. The state garage in this district was located here at the same time that the highway department, after making a survey of the district, decided that Dixon was the most logical location in the district for its engineers' offices and garage. That was in the spring of 1919, fourteen years ago. After being in Dixon for fourteen years it is rather ridiculous for anyone to say that it is only a temporary location.

Whiteside County wants to take that garage away from Dixon and because The Telegraph opposes them and because we have exposed the details in this political trade which resulted in the purchase by the state of an old, dilapidated foundry building at a price we maintain is exorbitant, the Sterling paper feels called upon to resort to very petty tactics. Have they no real defense?

The Sterling Gazette tells how loyally they have supported the Republican party and thinks they should have received more state patronage, although they view with horror the patronage in Lee County.

But in their issue of Monday, October 17th, 1932, the Gazette published an editorial in which it advised its readers to vote for the Socialist candidate for Governor of Illinois. This Gazette editorial said "Len Small cannot make a move without the approval of 'Big Bill.'" Neither can Judge Horner do anything without the sanction and approval of "Tony" Cermack. In this same editorial the Gazette said: "There is only one place where the voters who do not want to support the program of turning over to the Chicago crowd can go—and that is to make an X in the head of their ticket and go over to the Socialist column and opposite the name of their candidate for governor place an X before the Socialist candidate for governor."

NEWSPAPER CENSORSHIP.

The mayor of Richmond, Va., not long ago decided that the Richmond newspapers had been criticizing him altogether too freely. So he announced that he would "sever relations" with them until they grew more friendly, and as a result obstacles were placed in the way of reporters who tried to get news about the operations of the Richmond city government.

Nothing could have happened to put the duties of the press in a clearer light.

It is one of the functions of a newspaper to criticize. If it is to keep faith with its readers, it must always be on the alert about the actions of public officials; for the general public has no other way to learn what its servants are doing. A mayor or a chief of police who tries to stop the press from its pursuit of legitimate news is condemning himself. In a row of this kind, it is fairly safe to assume that the official concerned is trying to conceal something that should not, in the public interest, be hidden.

A TRADITION BROKEN.

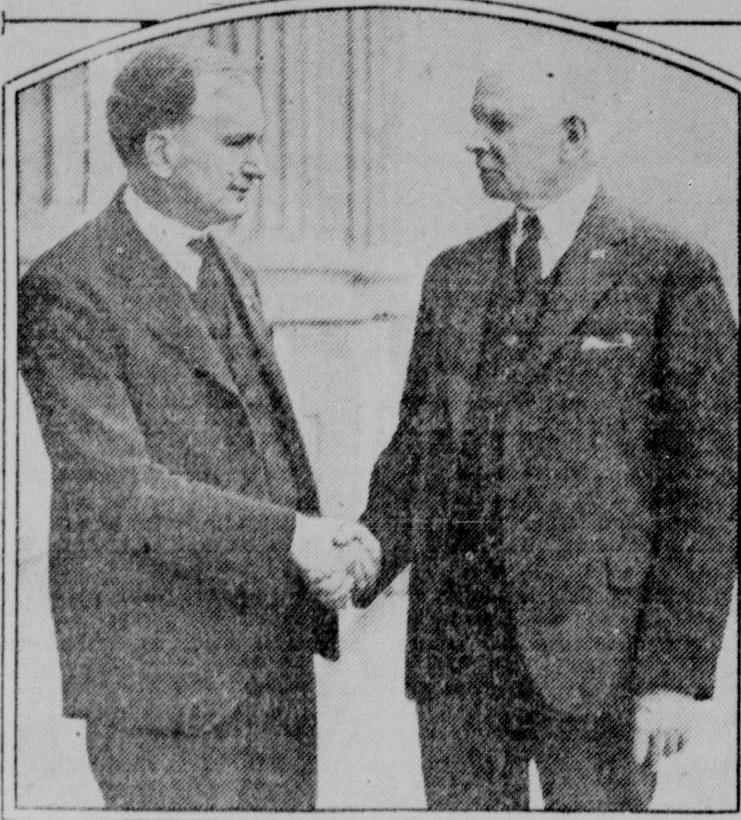

It gives one a rather melancholy feeling to read that when the liner President Roosevelt sailed for Europe recently, bearing 98 aliens who had been deported from the United States, it bore a most joyous and festive crowd of people.

These deportees, it seem, were glad to go. They had found the United States a poor place to live. Half of them were being deported at their own request. Europe looked better to them than America.

This, of course, is hardly Uncle Sam's fault. Immigrants aren't the only ones who have been having a tough time of it lately. But it is depressing to realize that America is no longer the great land of promise for people overseas. Our nation has lost its glamour. One of its brightest and proudest traditions has been shelved.

Their Voices Tangle Senate Legislation

The bitter fight these three men have carried on against the Glass Banking Bill in the Senate resulted in one of the greatest legislative snarls ever to entangle the upper house of Congress. Important legislation—including the vote on the President's veto of the Philippine Independence bill—had been held back by the filibuster with threat of a closure petition coming from Democratic leaders. Pictured here Senator Burton K. Wheeler shaking hands with Senator Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma, while Senator Huey Long of Louisiana is on the right.

WEEKLY SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By WILLIAM E. GILROY

If there was amazement at the teaching that the carpenter gave to his fellow townsmen, the fame of this new and unconventional prophet of religion spread very rapidly; so that wherever he spoke great crowds gathered round to hear him, and if he happened to be speaking in a house or synagogue, those who gathered to hear were so many that the building could not contain them, nor could they even get near the door.

This was the case in Capernaum, where the events in our lesson took place. With the fame of the teaching of Jesus had gone the story of his wonder-working power, and sick people were brought to him to be healed. The important thing about this lesson, however, was not that Jesus healed the sick by some spiritual influence or magic power; it was the message of peace and forgiveness that he dared to utter.

The healing of disease, and the removal of physical defects, entirely through miracles, or spiritual power, is a problem that deeply concerns the minds of men even in this scientific age. The skeptically minded scoff at the possibility of miracles and yet it must be evident to all thinking and observant people that there is a certain power of mind over matter, and a spiritual influence that has physical effects upon health and strength.

Careful scientific investigation of the phenomena of mental and spiritual healing, it is true, usually dissipates many extreme claims. It will be found, often, that the diagnosis was not accurate and that what was represented as serious or organic disease was some functional trouble; or it will be found, in many instances, that the supposed healing has been rather temporary and due to some strange exultation of the moment. But even when all such cases are taken into account, there is still a residue of reality in spiritual healing; and wise men may well recognize the fact.

It should be, however, remembered that Jesus never laid the great stress upon his power to heal the body. He never represented his "mighty works" as the great thing in his mission. The supreme thing was the truth that he came to declare. It was for this end that he said he had been born, that he had come into the world "to bear witness unto the truth." He also defined his mission as "to seek and to save the lost."

Hence it was that the deepest of all messages that Jesus had for men was the message of forgiveness through the love and grace of God. Any work of wonder that he performed was in testimony to the deeper power that he exercised over the souls of men as one who had come with the supreme purpose of bringing them salvation.

It is important that we should make these distinctions. To think of Jesus merely as a wonder-worker, bringing into the world some magical power, is not enough, in fact it is perhaps to obscure the deepest truth concerning him. There is no blessing that he can bring to us greater than the spiritual blessing of forgiveness and restoration through the redeeming power of God.

This is the heart and soul of the Gospel, it is the essence of the teaching of Jesus, re-enforced by all his life and example in everything that he did and in everything that he said.

To find through Him forgiveness of our sins and redemption through grace, is to find the way toward all the blessings he has to bestow—and it is the only way.

Too Much Senator For Investigator

New York, Jan. 18—(AP)—Irving

Ben Cooper, a young investigator trained in the Samuel Seabury school has resigned as counsel to a Senate inquiry into Stock Market practices, but information from Washington today was that the inquiry would proceed.

In announcing his resignation last night, Cooper said Senator

Peter G. Norbeck of South Dakota, chairman of the investigating committee, had denied him a "free hand." Norbeck, in Washington, declared the senatorial power could not be delegated.

"The resignation is not important," Norbeck said. "The investigation will proceed."

Until yesterday Cooper apparently had been proceeding with the preparation of material for the inquiry, which was expected to delve deeply into the Kreuger & Toll and Insull bankruptcies. He was said also, the New York Times declared, to be seeking information on large income tax evasions.

The Tintinamites ran round here and there and gathered wood from everywhere to keep their big fire blazing. "It's a dandy," Freesty said.

"Let's get a log and sit right near. We may as well rest while we're here. I only wish I was back home so I could go to bed."

"You lads have kept me busy. Gee! It's been real strenuous for me to push the sled, and skate around. You see, I'm getting old."

"Of course you are young and you don't care. You race and tumble everywhere. I really envy you because you keep from getting so cold."

Then Scouty said, "Well we will fix you. You'll take a nice nap when we are through." And then he asked the Tintinamites to help clear a nice, wide space.

"Right near the fire," he loudly said. "With fir trees we will make a bed." When they had finished, Freesty cried, "That is a dandy place."

"All right, the next thing you, should do is flop down. We will there and watch over you," said Duncy. So, old Freesty flopped and soon began to snore.

Woe Windy whispered, "Let's look around and see what strange things can be found." They all started out and shortly heard a roar.

"If that is a big wolf," Coppy cried, "Perhaps we all had better run and hide. But first I am going to find out. It can't be so far from here."

He ran a little ways and then the funny roar broke out again. Then Coppy spied an animal. He yelled, "There is naught to fear."

"Right in a trap the beast is caught. It is in pain. I think we ought to turn it loose. It will run away and leave us, if it's wild."

He pulled the trap with all his might. Then good old Freesty came in sight. "The howling woke me up," said he. "I will try and help you, child."

ONLY "HALF THERE" WHEN YOU SHOULD BE YOUR BEST!

How many people sit down to dinner listless, fatigued, no appetite, when in the family at evening they should be their best? Nearly always it's excess acids that are to blame—acids that sap vital nervous energy, upset the system and often precede the breakdown of health!

In the mouth acids attack enamel, bring tooth decay and bad breath. In the stomach they attack delicate linings and bring sick headaches, indigestion, gas and constipation, and often chronic disorders.

Neutralize excess acids at once with Milnesia Waters—original Milk of Magnesia in tasty tablet form. One Water before bedtime, and the whole digestive system, from mouth and gums to intestines, is kept sweet and clean and clear of these harmful acids. Thousands of physicians now recommend Milnesia instead of old fashioned liquid Milk of Magnesia.

BETTER LIVING FOR FARMERS IS THEME OF MEET

Was Dominating Subject Farm And Home Week Discussions

Urbana, Ill., Jan. 19.—(AP)—Raising the standards of living for the people living on Illinois farms was the dominating subject at today's session of the Annual Farm and Home Week of the college of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

Speakers pointed out that for an increasing number of farm families, food and shelter have become the only reward and that farm folks should make the most of this endowment.

The declining art of home butchering was revived in a lecture and demonstrated by Prof. Sletter Bull, who pointed out that the farmer who converts some of his hogs into home-made pork can get part of his year's meat supply at very low cost. The three-cent hog supplies the once high-priced bacon at 8 cents a pound and other pork cuts at proportionate prices he reported.

General neglect has spelled the doom of the home apple orchard, but with it gone the same area might well be planted to raspberries and other small fruits, it was explained by R. S. Marsh, horticultural extension specialist. By the proper selection of varieties of strawberries, currants, gooseberries, raspberries, blackberries and the grapes, the farm family can have a continuous supply of fresh fruit available in late spring, summer and fall, he said.

If Illinois caught up with the more progressive states in solving land use problems through forestry development, it eventually would mean hundreds of millions of dollars to land owners, industries, tax payers and wage earners of this state, Willis M. Baker, director of the Central States Forest Experiment Station, Columbus, Ohio said in his address today.

With more than 11 million acres of idle and waste land available for growing timber, Illinois still imports nearly 98 per cent of all its sawed lumber and 80 per cent of all its wood at a cost not far from a hundred million dollars every year, Director Baker pointed out.

"At present time the lands acquired for state forests in Illinois total only 3,300 acres, a very limited supply of nursery stock is provided for tree planters, and adequate protection against forest fires is not yet provided. Until Illinois takes a leading rank with her sister states in attacking the associated problems of land use and forestry, those who know the facts cannot be satisfied."

A new crop, waste-saving methods of handling farm manure and economical tillage methods were other subjects discussed today.

It was urged to search for newer methods that will help farmers shave their crop production costs still lower and thereby recover part of the 100 million dollars or more which they have lost in gross income from their principal field crops during the past several years.

The new crop which came in for extended discussion was Korean lespedeza. Illinois farmers are showing great interest in it because it meets the need for a pasture legume which is less sensitive about its soil requirements than the clovers and alfalfa and which will at the same time produce an abundance of hay or pasture, it was pointed out by O. H. Sears, soil biologist of the college.

Turning from the new crop, the farmers took up cost-saving and waste-reducing possibilities in the care and treatment of their soils. From a third to one-half more of the plant food in the 50 million tons of manure produced annually in the state could be returned to the soil through improved methods of handling the manure, it was estimated by F. H. Crane. This might mean millions of dollars to farmers in terms of cheaper production, he pointed out.

Stressing low-cost tillage methods, R. S. Smith told the farmers that except for every heavy soils, the smallest number of cultivations that will keep down weeds is the best number both from the standpoint of cost and of yield. Other experiments have shown that medium depth plowing is best, and that in Illinois it does not pay to go the expense of trying to improve the subsoil by deep tillage or by the use of dynamite.

The home and all that it stands for will flourish again as the result of the scarcity of money, Miss Lita Bane of the Ladies Home Journal Philadelphia, declared in an address today.

"In the present emergency we need to do more than our usual amount of steady the boat and keeping busy," Mrs. Bane said. "We need to keep alive the deep human sympathy and understanding of fundamental human needs which seem to be endowment of women."

We probably know better than men what it takes to make human beings contented.

"We need to draw upon every resource in order to create a satisfactory situation in our own homes, and more than that we might well share this knowledge with those who are administering funds in the interest of public welfare at this time."

Aims and objectives of organized agriculture will be set forth today when E. C. Smith, president of the Illinois Agricultural Association delivers his address at the closing of the annual farm week.

Preceding President Smith's statement in behalf of organized agriculture, Illinois farmers will probe the corn situation which finds them with bountiful stocks estimated 417 million bushels bringing some of the lowest prices on record.

There is nothing in history nor in the outlook for the future to warrant a belief that corn will remain for long at present low prices, in the opinion of L. J. Norton, department of agricultural economics, who will report on present supplies and the outlook for future prices.

Burn even a small part of the present stocks of corn for heat and power might raise the price for the remainder, in the opinion of E. W. Lehmann, head of the agricultural engineer department, who will report on this phase of the situation. There are promising possibilities for reusing the use of corn for food and thereby restoring some of its lost prestige as a cash crop, according to Miss Sybil Woodruff, of the department of home economics, who will explain the wider use of corn in the diet.

The Illinois farmer now gets under 12 per cent of his cash income from corn, and R. R. Hudelson, of the department of agricultural economy will explain how this would be affected by an acreage adjustment.

The College of Agriculture long has recommended a higher percentage of legumes in Illinois crop acreages, and the corn adjustment program might be the entering wedge. This angle of the situation will be discussed by F. C. Bauer, of the agronomy department.

Protection against losses from insects will be more important if the acreage is adjusted, W. P. Flint, chief entomologist of the Illinois State Natural History Survey, will prepare farmers for this. Friday morning will bring the windup of the 29 different short courses in which farmers have been studying new ways of developing more effective marketing, cheapening their production costs, improving the quality of their products, eliminating wastes and losses and in general, raising the standards of rural living.

COMPTON NEWS

By Leslie G. Archer

Compton—The matter of taxation holds the spotlight in the attention of public interest here. Each week will find this column devoted to a limited number of lines on this matter, locally. The civic class of Compton high school in the course of their study of taxation have prepared some rather interesting figures on taxes, which will be of interest to all. An effort will be made to have an expert check over all figures before publication. The first paragraph will be on Compton's 1931 taxes. These figures will furnish a basis for comparison with the new tax figures to appear soon.

An eleven pound baby daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bodner of Steward at the home of the mother's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kelm's here at Compton, on Monday, January 16th. Mother and baby are doing nicely at this time.

Christ Kaiser, seventy-five-year-old father of John Kaiser was taken seriously ill at his son's home late Saturday afternoon. He was a victim of a heart attack, after doing some odd jobs at his son's place, started for the house, and fell just as he was entering the house. Dr. Owens was summoned and the elderly man was revived and placed in his bed, and appears to be getting along as well as can be expected at the time this was written.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Chaon, daughters Beatrice and Marjorie accompanied by Miss Ida Longbein and Mrs. Ruth Ogilvie motored to Cary Sunday where they witnessed the Intercollegiate ski meet. Mr. Chaon on Monday drove to Chicago where he purchased a considerable amount of goods for his store here. He has announced an "after inventory sale" for the latter part of this month.

The Compton Athletic club will be host to the Steward Merchants basketball team in a double header at the local gym this Friday evening, Jan. 20th. First team game will be preceded by a game between the C. A. C. seconds, branded as the "Bears", and the Merchants seconds.

WITHOUT DRUGS

Get quick relief from neuralgia pain, sciatica pain, neuritis pain, rheumatic pain, lame back, stiff neck, headache, strains and chest colds by rubbing plenty of Faune Bengue (pronounced Ben-Gay) on the spot. It doesn't blister or stain. Rub it in till it sinks down and soothes the pain or breaks up the chest cold. Take no drugs, for any drug that is powerful enough to "desensitize" pain or loosen a chest cold may not be good for you.

But beware of imitations. Ask your druggist for Faune Bengue by name (called "Ben-Gay" in English). There are many analgesic balms, mostly cheap imitations of Ben-Gay made out of synthetic drugs. That is why they are cheap. That is also why they are ineffective. Insist on Ben-Gay and you will get real results.

The Prohibition Fight Shifts to the States

The fight on prohibition has shifted for the moment to legislatures of the states, where preparations are being made to act on such measures as Congress may take to alter the Volstead act or the Constitution. The above map shows the present lines along the state front. The states in white have already repealed their dry laws. With many legislatures in session this winter, the shaded states now have prohibition measures before them. The states in black have taken no action on their present dry laws. Of the starred states, Maryland never had a state dry law and New York has not had one for more than 10 years.

Last Tuesday evening Rollo and his two teams, mixed with the club, and went home by breaking even on wins. The C. A. C. "Bears," after a slow start in the early part of the game, was capable of settling the affair in a last minute rally, winning by a score of 23 to 18. The first team lost by a close game throughout, the score being 30 to 29 in Rollo's favor.

Lodges from the following places will attend, Shabona, Paw Paw, Somonauk, Leland, Sandwich, Waterman and Earlville. There will be three sessions daily, mornings, afternoons and evenings.

"Will the radio eventually supplant the newspaper as a news disseminator and advertising medium?" is a question that we frequently hear nowadays, says Galt Braxton, editor of the Kingston (N. C.) Daily Free Press.

"I think it is quite safe to answer in the negative. The radio certainly has a fixed place, and in many respects has revolutionized the easy and immediate facilities for communicating information."

"The radio, however, can never perform the service or supplant the local newspaper. The radio is purely a commercial institution. Take for instance in the recent national political campaign. Not one speech was made by a presidential candidate or other political campaigner for which the time was not paid for."

"The newspapers of the country, while resenting to a certain extent discrimination shown by political campaign managers in paying for radio broadcasts and expecting the papers to carry the propaganda as news, without cost, yet they unquestionably carried the vital messages of the campaign and contacted more individuals by far than the paid service of the radio."

"I believe the policy of the great newsgathering agencies in making releases to the broadcasting chains or hookups either for the publicity obtained therefrom or for a monetary consideration is wrong and I believe the publishers of the country are going to insist upon the practice being stopped.

"I am glad to say that publishers have, to a large extent, realized that the carrying of daily radio programs as news matter is nothing more nor less than cutting their own throats, so to speak."

"There is no obligation on the part of the press of this country to foster, nurture, or develop a competing agency."

A BOOK A DAY

BLACK MAGIC FILLS
THIS TALE OF CRIME

(By Bruce Catton)

If you like your murder stories wild, woody and full of gore that is spilled in a most improbable manner, you might get a hefty kick out of "Burn, Witch, Burn!" by A. Merritt.

This book brings a bigshot gangster in New York up against a witch who has a pleasing hobby of making very life-like dolls. Whenever this lady can kill the person after whom she modeled the doll, she can bring the doll to life, and to accomplish her murders she sends these living dolls about New York armed with small but effective stilettos, with which they creep into windows at night and—

Honest, that's what the book is about; and if you will just permit yourself to be lulled into a child-like and wide-eyed acceptance of the most hair-raising impossibilities you'll actually find it interesting. This man Merritt seems to be a cross between Edgar Wallace and Arthur Machen.

While we're on the subject, you might like to know that that ancient horror story of H. G. Wells, "The Island of Doctor Moreau" has been republished.

This book, as you may remember, tells of a doctor on a South Sea island who catches people and by cunning operations, turns them into beasts. A young castaway gets on the island and manages to escape in the nick of time. It's all very shuddery and horrifying—just the thing for a nice quiet winter evening by the fireside.

A WEALTHY MAN

Houston, Tex.—Judging from the wealth of seven men brought before Judge King by Assistant District Attorney Van Dohsen on habeas corpus proceedings, it was an act of mercy to jail them. The men had been in jail 10 days, long enough to work out their fines. The total wealth of the group was two cents, held by one of the men.

POLO DEFEATED WIREMAKERS TO TAKE THE LEAD

Reynolds Last Minute Drive Almost Upset Winners

By DON HILLIKER
Industrial League Standings

Games Next Wednesday
Polo vs. Ghoulis.
Battery Shop vs. Reynolds.
Ashton vs. Loafers.

Winning over the Reynolds last night by a 25-22 total, Polo took an undisputed lead in the local Industrial League. In the other Wednesday contests the Ghoulis took Beier's Loafers, 24-17, and Ashton trimmed the Dixon Battery Shop, 43-21.

The feature game of the show was won by Polo, but the Reynolds team last minute drive almost upset the winners. At the end of the first period it was 6 all. In the second quarter the Reynolds five forged ahead to lead 11-10 at the rest period. The attack which has subdued every team in the league except the Dixon Battery Shop, then began hitting and Polo ran up to a 19-12 advantage at the finish of the third stanza. Leading 21-16 with three minutes to play Polo almost took it on the chin. Two baskets made it 21-20, but a sleeper by Frey and Scott's side shot settled the battle. Frey led the scorers, getting four baskets and two free tosses for 10 points. E. Lebre was next with eight.

The opener was also a close one with an 8-point last quarter rally clinching the decision for the Dixon on Ghoulis over Beier's Loafers. A 7-6 lead was the Ghoulis' accomplishment in the first period. It increased to 12-8 at the half. The next quarter was close with the Ghoulis tallying four points and Beier's five. The final period attack put the game on ice, to enable the Ghoulis to tie for second place in the league standings. Cortwright, former Ghoul, led the scoring with four baskets and a free toss. Carlson and Underwood had seven each for second place. It was with a second half change of baskets that Ashton defeated the Battery Shop five. It was 6-6 at the quarter but at the half the local team trailed 16-12. Sixteen points in the third quarter and eleven in the final gave Ashton the game. Moye increased his leading total in the scoring race to 24 points, netting six baskets and six free tosses. L. Miller and Kehr led the losers with six points each.

Two recent alleged championship bouts proved the merit of the old saw that two hands are better than one. Tommy Paul might have beaten Freddie Miller, Cincinnati south paw, for the N. B. A. featherweight championship of the world if he had used more rights. And if Frank Battaglia had been able to throw a left as well as he tossed the latter right at Ben Jeby, the latter might not now be New York Boxing Commission middleweight champion of the world.

WINS A GAME GUY

Some sort of prize must be awarded the venerable kunkel, Matt Winn, for his derring-do in refusing to lower the Kentucky Derby's $50,000 purse. But then the kunkel always has been a game guy even though it has cost him a couple on the chin now and then.

MCGRAW CAN DO IT

Mister John Joseph McGraw, who recently signed for a series of talks, should feel right at home in his new role. If you doubt that he can orate, we recommend you to Will Klem, National League umpire. Mister Klem has heard Mister McGraw in some of his finest philippics.

ANOTHER PRIZE

While we're in the business of passing up prizes let us not forget to reward with some humble token the temerity of Prof. Umberto Gabbi of the University of Parma (Denver). The professor unbundled himself of the following remark recently: "Women athletes . . . They are often thick of neck and have herculean arteries, peninsular hands and territorial feel." ## DOUBLE HEADER WITH DEKALB ON FRIDAY EVENING

D. H. S. Cagers Determined To Get Back Into Win Column

By DON HILLIKER

Friday evening in the northside gymnasium Dixon and DeKalb meet in a North Central contest. Starting at 7 o'clock the E teams will meet in the preliminary to the main attraction. The last Dixon cage victory over DeKalb was in the season of 1929-30 when Capt. Voris' six long snots turned the game into a 15-13 victory.

The Dixon crew will be somewhat handicapped, being forced to play without the services of Curtis Strong, regular center. In the Sterling game of last week he and Powell had a crack-up. No serious difficulty seemed apparent to the local stars' play but Monday his shoulder became bothersome. An x-ray disclosed a severe bruise which will cost Strong's acting as a spectator against DeKalb. He will be back in uniform for the following week-end.

During the preparation for the Barbs Coach L. E. Sharpe is working desperately to replace Strong. Fordham, Potts and Beech will probably divide the time at the vacant post. The remainder of the first string remains intact. Hasselberg at the other guard, Bellows, center, and the trio of forwards to alternate, Henry, Flanagan and Underwood. This array can put up a good brand of ball when necessary and if ever a necessity was approaching the DeKalb game is it. Dixon will be struggling to gain a 500 percentage in the N. C. I. C. standings. A local win would put the two opponents in a tie for third place.

DeKalb's record thus far is impressive. Their five victories and scores follow: Over Elburn 21-18, Rochelle, 24-20, West Aurora (conqueror of Freeport) 27-14, Hickory, 31-17, Mendota, 44-12. They have lost four games—To Belvidere, 18-15, Sycamore, 25-17, Sterling, 25-12, Moseheart, 26-10. Coach Earl Drew uses Blazevich, Frey, Sarich, Roche and Stefani as his regular lineup.

The first game should be something to catch. DeKalb's seconds are leading the league with three victories. They trimmed Rochelle, 23-13, Mendota, 19-9, and Belvidere, 26-16. One other win was over Elburn, 18-15. They have lost to Moseheart, 21-16, and to West Aurora, 19-14.

Dixon's seconds have won two and lost two. The regular lineup, Flanagan and Grove forwards, "Texas" Cinnamon, center, Krug and Nicolson will probably start. The officials for tomorrow's games will be Swanson and Behnman of Rock Island.

Dixon Billiard Players Lead In Tourney Trimmed

The Sterling billiard and pocket billiard team gained 37 points on the Dixon team, Tuesday evening at Killian Bros. billiard parlor, in Sterling. It was the fifth match of a series of six in which the losers are to give a turkey banquet to the winners. The final match will be played at the Hub in Dixon, next Wednesday evening.

In the match Tuesday evening, Covert of Dixon defeated Don O. Thomas of Sterling, 50 to 31; William Killian defeated Hubbell of Dixon, 50 to 45; Harold Hill of Sterling defeated Segner of Dixon, 50 to 32; and Smith of Dixon defeated Hiller of Sterling, 50 to 31. At pocket billiards it was the first defeat of the match for Hiller. At billiards, Ed Grennan defeated Crawford of Dixon, 100 to 47; and Rutt of Sterling defeated Dysart of Dixon, 100 to 93.

Local Ring Fans At Walnut Show

A number of local boxing fans attended the gymnasium workouts at Walnut, Tuesday night. Peter Brewer of Walnut and King of Ohio, put up the best bout of the evening. It was a real stiff workout. William King of Sterling drew an experienced boy in Ogan of Ohio, and Kenny Shaw of Sterling was pitted against Johnson of Walnut, ring veteran. Jack Sharkey of Dixon did some clowning against Harms of Deer Grove. Sharkey's experience more than offsetting the 30 or 40 pound weight handicap. The Allison midsets of Kewanee were a real feature of the evening. They put up a great exhibition. Joe and Hugh Hermes of Harmon had the best of their opponents in the workouts. The workouts are held every Tuesday evening.

FINANCIAL PROBLEMS OF SCHOOLS OF DIXON OUTLINED BY SUPERINTENDENT LANCASTER AT MEETING OF P. T. ASS'N.

Told of Efforts Of Board, Faculty And Other Employees To Stay Within Budget: Compares School Costs

Efforts to comply with the budget outlined for the Dixon school system in face of reduced revenues were outlined in a very clear and understandable manner by Superintendent A. H. Lancaster at the regular monthly meeting of the High School Parent-Teacher Association at the high school last evening. The meeting also embodied the grade Parent Teacher association and the room was filled to its capacity. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. H. C. Warner.

Superintendent Lancaster's talk was very timely and interesting. He reviewed the method of taxation in Illinois and the plan for establishing school districts as well as the levying of taxes for school purposes. He cited figures to show the wide range of school tax levies in various parts of the state as the result of a special canvass conducted for this purpose a short time ago.

In his talk on taxation, Superintendent Lancaster in speaking of the manner of selection of competent officials said:

Mostly Vote Getters
"Our assessors are selected on ability to secure votes and not as to ability to assess property and real estate. It would be better that they had qualifications to estimate real estate valuations and a strict knowledge of taxable properties. There is an organization in Illinois whose program would change the office of assessor, making it a full time position, appointive instead of elective, requiring the necessary knowledge of values, making a county instead of township position with the assessor appointing such assistants as he may require."

Superintendent Lancaster quoted figures showing that in the Dixon elementary schools the sum of $7,105 backed each child enrolled in September and $217,574 backed each elementary teacher. He called attention to the inequalities in many school districts of the state where the amounts were less or greater than that in Dixon. Reduction in the cost of government and the deriving of revenues from other sources than taxation of real estate were cited as two methods whereby additional school funds could be derived, and at the same time reduce taxation. He briefly explained the Hicks plan of consolidating the one-room rural schools of Illinois as a method to reduce educational costs and to assure better education facilities and advantages. A further reduction of school revenues would necessitate the reduction of salaries, Superintendent Lancaster said.

Salaries Reduced
Reductions in salaries of instructors in Dixon schools, according to the speaker, is resulting in overtures being made to some of the teachers to secure their services in districts which guarantee larger salaries. The enrollment in the local schools is increasing and the funds decreasing. Supplies which are needed have not been purchased in an effort to stay within the budget in which economies all of the school employees of the city are cooperating, the speaker stated.

Superintendent Lancaster had prepared two interesting tables outlining the estimated receipts and expenditures of the Dixon public schools together with the comparative tax rate on the $100 valuation previous to 1932 in many cities of the state, both of which are very interesting to those interested in the school system of the county and state and are given as follows:

SALARY BOOST NOT ENOUGH TO SATISFY SENOR

Lefty Gomez Refuses To Sign With New York Yankees

New York, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Like most baseball players as well as other folks, Vernon Gomez, the port-side pitcher who won 24 games and lost only seven for the Yankees last year, has a chip on his shoulder these days. But there the similarity ends, for his complaint is against the size of a raise in salary rather than a cut.

Still slightly winded from the rapidity with which Babe Ruth's contract bounced back at him Monday night, Secretary Ed Barrow of the world's champions confidently pulled himself together yesterday afternoon when Gomez called at his office for a talk.

Patently and emphatically each statement Barrow explained to Gomez that his salary, unlike those of Ruth and others of lesser importance in the world of baseball, including President John Heydler, was being increased and not decreased, that he was to get more money for his work in 1933 than he did in 1932 and he was wondering if the Senor hadn't made a mistake when he effected that frowning, complaining attitude when he told him Gomez turned a deaf ear. He knew, he said that he was getting a raise and not a cut but he wanted it understood that he considered the raise too small. He departed without signing and spoke of making a trip to Nassau before reporting to the Yankees training camp at St. Petersburg.

There were no developments in the case of Ruth who promptly returned his contract when he found it to contain a meagre $50,000 as compensation for the season's work in contrast to the $75,000 he has been hauling down.

A TIGHT SQUEEZE
El Paso, Texas—The only cleft police have as to who robbed a chain store of $50 worth of groceries the other night, is that he must be the slimmest person in Texas. Detectives said the bars of the window through which the person entered the store are so close together that a 3-year-old would find it hard to enter.

Head Of P. G. Assn. Is Not Excited

Chicago, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Albert R. Gates, business administrator of the Professional Golfers' Association, refuses to get excited over Gene Sarazen's proposal for eight inch cups.

"I think Gene is just kidding the public a bit," Gates replied when asked for an official P. G. A. opinion. "If the cups were widened to eight inches, the game would lose a lot of its thrill and the pros would lose a lot of prestige to countless duffers who would put 'em in from all distances. It's too big a step to take at once anyway."

Sen. Glass States Opinion Of Huey

Washington, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Senator Glass says he could not be induced to become Secretary of the Treasury if he had to obtain the permission of Senator Long (D. La.).

During a discussion in the Senate yesterday, Glass, a Virginia Democrat, mentioned that he once had been head of the Treasury department.

"The newspapers have been told by one of the Senators," Glass said, referring to Long, "that I am not to be permitted to hold that place again; that I would have to get his permission."

"If I had to do that, all the king's horses and all the king's men could never induce me to accept the distinction."

Australia is sometimes called the "shadeless land." The leaves of some of the trees there are so arranged as always to present the edges to the sky.

Doctors Give Creosote For Dangerous Coughs

For many years our best doctors have prescribed creosote in some form for coughs, colds and bronchitis, knowing how dangerous it is to let them hang on.

Creosolium with creosote and six other highly important medicinal elements, quickly and effectively stops all coughs and colds that otherwise might lead to serious trouble.

Creosolium is powerful in the treatment of all colds and coughs no matter how long standing, yet it is absolutely harmless and pleasant and easy to take.

Your own druggist guarantees Creosolium by refunding your money if you are not relieved after taking Creosolium as directed. Beware the cough or cold that hangs on. Always keep Creosolium on hand for instant use. (adv.)

GRACE EVANGELICAL CHURCH

The evangelistic meetings under the direction of Rev. R. R. Heidenreich are progressing nicely considering the weather and other conditions. The speaker is bringing forth messages night after night which have brought conviction to many hearts. The spiritual tide is rising higher and higher. Last night Rev. Heidenreich spoke on the theme "Keeping Our Appointments With Christ." He spoke of the necessity of being prompt in keeping our engagements, in being true to our promises with our fellowmen and it is just as important if not more so if possible, to keep our appointment with Christ. Tonight the speaker will bring a message from the text Psalms 107:2 "Let the Redeemer of the Lord Say So." On Friday night he will use the text John 19:29 "From Night to Light." There will be no services on Saturday night. Rev. Heidenreich will speak at both the morning and evening worship on the Lord's Day.

The public is heartily invited to attend these services. Come and enjoy the good things with us.

Columbus, O.—The two armed bandits who held up two clerics in a drugstore were so pleased with the $40 that they said "thank you" when they left the store. The men robbed the cash register and then forced Fred Wesley and R. F. Best into the back room.

Marian Martin Pattern

DESIGNED FOR
SIZES 36 to 46
Pattern 9541

Sketched today is a charming afternoon frock that would be ravishing of a new Spring print—dark ground with small geometric design. The flattering yoke treatment, slimming skirt seaming and three-quarter length puffed sleeves create especially good lines for the matronly figure. Sleeves may be flared as shown in small sketch.

Pattern 9541 may be ordered only in sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46. Size 36 requires 3 1-4 yards 39 inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step making instructions included with this pattern.

To get a pattern of this model, send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred). Please write very plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, STYLE NUMBER and SIZE of each pattern ordered.

For a complete collection of the smartest, most practical and easiest-to-make styles, consult the MARIAN MARTIN PATTERN CATALOG. Its 32 pages include beautiful models for juniors and kiddies, as well as the best of the season's afternoon, evening, sports and house frocks, lingerie and pajamas. Exquisite transfer patterns, too. SEND FOR YOUR COPY. PRICE OF CATALOG, FIFTEEN CENTS (15c). CATALOG AND PATTERN TOGETHER TWENTY-FIVE CENTS (25c). Address all orders to The Dixon Evening Telegraph Pattern Department, 232 West 18th Street, New York City.

Bride Is Held For Death At Charivari

Marion, Ill., Jan. 18.—(AP)—Mrs. Harry Byers, who spent her wedding night in jail after Robert Praether was killed during a charivari at her home in Herrin Monday night, today was being held for murder on orders of State's Attorney Charles Murray.

The State's Attorney also ordered John Wilson, who allegedly threw a brick that killed Praether, held for murder. It was testified at the coroner's inquest yesterday, the prosecutor said, that Mrs. Byers handed Wilson the brick that was thrown at Praether.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks pink, don't swallow a lot of salt, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a more movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up, making you feel bloated. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes up to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Repeat a substitute, 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

A MAN MUST EAT

Stockton, Cal. — The depression uncovers a multitude of sins. Joseph Corrales confessed to Captain Detectives James C. Dewey that he had helped four other boys hold a pad and rob a truck carrying $6500 gold bullion. That was two years ago, near Killying, Conn. It was lack of work and scarcity of meals that caused Corrales to give himself up.

END OF THE RUN

Charles Smith always said that stretch of track at Beverly Curve, with the setting sun visible through a small grove, was "the most beautiful spot in the world." Every time he took No. 8154 over it he admired it, and he knew he was near the end of his run and the day's work. Engineer Smith's will directed that his ashes be scattered there, along the Pennsylvania's busy right of way just east of Chicago. Engine 8152, that Smith had piloted in his last 43 years' service, made a special run. Its whistle sounded the requiem as 8125 swung around Beverly Curve. Engineer Herman Seibold leaning from Smith's old place in the cab, carried out his friend's last orders.

Sidelights In News In Capital Of United States

Washington—Old timers in the Senate looked on with something akin to amazement while Huey Long of Louisiana went about the task of filibustering against the Glass banking bill.

And the thing that seemed to astonish them most was the way the "kingfish" maneuvered and manipulated the rules of the Senate to his advantage.

Senate rules are tricky. Often a Senator supposed to have a wide knowledge of them find himself helpless when a colleague more skillful or observant springs one on him. More than one Senator has found the floor taken from him in this manner.

And the fact that Long, a comparatively newcomer to the Senate has so grounded himself in the knowledge of them that he was able to filibuster his heart's content while Senators with years of experience were trying to pick him off was regarded as little short of remarkable.

NO HAZING HUEY—Almost every known method of hazing a Senator was tried out on the irrepressible Louisiana during his filibuster. But he refused to be hazed.

A good example of how well he has mastered the rules of the Senate came on the second day of his filibuster. He almost tied himself up, but managed to wiggle out.

It came when he demanded that the Senate take up the regular order of business, hoping that he could force a return to consideration of a deficiency appropriation bill which had displaced temporarily the Glass banking bill. It looked as if he had slipped up.

His demand brought back before the Senate the Glass bill, just what he didn't want. He rallied quickly, however, and managed to hold the floor by devious ways all afternoon.

LONG ENJOYS IT—There hasn't been a filibuster in the Senate for a long time when it was so evident that the filibusterer was having such a good time.

And Glass himself stayed around all the time. Once Huey missed him.

"Where is Senator Glass?" he belated.

Immediately the door to the cloakroom opened.

"Here he is," replied Glass, "listening."

WALTON NEWS

WALTON—Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCaffrey are the proud parents of a baby daughter born Thursday, Jan. 12. Mrs. Frank Shugart of Rock Falls is caring for the mother and baby.

A number from here attended the funeral of the late Mrs. Mary Langley of Amboy, she having taught school in this vicinity for a number of years.

Rev. Driscoll was called home by the passing of one of his sisters. The Will Gurgerty family called at the D. J. Payne home since moving.

Mrs. Joe McCaffrey called at the home of her mother, Mrs. P. D. Fitzpatrick of Ohio Friday.

Ernie Nichols is moving to the Mrs. Joe Climack farm south of town.

Archie Keaton and family have moved to Missouri.

A number of the young people attended the dance at Princeton Sunday evening.

PRAYS IN VAIN

Los Angeles, Jan. 19—Raymond Clapp, one-arm air operator uttered useless prayers the other night when he was held up by two masked bandits. Maybe it was because the prayers were forced. The two men met Clapp at the end of his line and forced him into a praying position while they scooped his money belt of $26.

The greatest flood disaster in history is generally thought to have been the overflowing of the Hoang-Ho river in China. The flood occurred in 1887 and is said to have taken a toll of from 5,000,000 to 7,000,000 lives.

LEFT ARM WAS ALMOST USELESS

Nearly Crippled With Neuritis, Stomach Disorder, All Foods Disagreed With Her; Gly-Cas Un-failing.

"Gly-Cas was certainly a boon to me," said Mrs. Eva Doty, 1612 South 20th St., Centerville, Iowa. "Neuritis in my left arm had rendered it almost useless, sharp stabbing pains were awful. I was terribly nervous, dizzy spells every morning couldn't walk, staggered like a drunk. Everything I ate disagreed with me. Indigestion made life miserable. But now, since I have been taking Gly-Cas I am all right again, feel fine, never bothered with former health troubles, all pain has left me, eat and sleep good and really enjoy life. It is a pleasure to tell others of a medicine like Gly-Cas that gives just the results people want."

Gly-Cas is sold by Campbell White Cross Pharmacy and by all leading drug stores in surrounding towns.—Adv.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
SHELLA SHAYNE, 18, whose parents were well known vaudeville entertainers, is a dancer. After weeks out of a job she is hired to substitute for DAISY GLEASON, another dancer, who has sprained her ankle. While rehearsing at JOE PARIS' song shop Shella meets DICK STANLEY and TREVOR LANE, both rich. Dick is much attracted by Shella and urges Lane to include her in the program of entertainment at a party he is giving. Shella declines to come but later accepts.

At the party she meets GORDON MANDRAKE, well known producer. She sees Dick frequently after that. Delay returns to the show and she is again hired. Then Mandrake offers her a part in a new play. Rehearsals begin at once, Shella becomes friendly with JIM BLAINE, one of the principals in the play.

They go to Atlantic City for the tryout. There newspapers uncover the fact that Jim is the son of a wealthy family and has gone over to the stage in opposition to his father's wishes.

MARION RANDOLPH, the star, becomes jealous of the praise Shella receives from critics and therefore Shella is discharged. Dick invites her to tea, telling her Mandrake will be there also.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XVI
The second important happening of the day came only two hours later. When Dick Stanley put down the telephone about talking to Shella he walked rapidly across the living room, lighted a cigarette, tossed it aside within five minutes. Then he sank impatiently into a chair and called Trevor Lane's number.

"It's a bad break all right," Trevor replied when Dick had told him how Shella had left the show. "It doesn't mean that she wasn't a success, though. That little Tillie Lee who has the part now can't compare with Shella. But Marion Randolph is bound to have her own way. Two pearls from those blue eyes and she could practically put Mandrake himself out!"

Dick interrupted to say precisely what he thought of that producer.

"There's no use taking it that way," Trevor assured him. "And if you want to help Shella you won't even mention this to Mandrake. You say they're both coming to tea? Well, suppose I drift in on the party?" He did just that.

Nothing was said about Shella's departure from the cast of "When Lights Are Low." Shella drank her tea, looking wide-eyed and serious, smiled and answered desultory questions. She even sang a little when Trevor asked her to sing.

While she and Dick at the far end of the room were hunting through sheets of music for the song they wanted Trevor talked to Mandrake.

Shella was never to learn just what was said in that conversation but next morning she was again in rehearsal. The part was in the road show company of a Broadway hit. This time the contract was signed. Shella's flat little purse contained the precious document when she met Dick after the rehearsal.

"And that's that!" he said, folding the document after he had read it and handing it back to her. "Let's celebrate!"

There was another rehearsal at 7 which would end an hour later since most of the cast were playing in another show about to close.

UNTIL 7 Dick and Shella drove. She had a new job. He had been hard at work on his play and only the night before had reached the turning point when every part of his drama seemed to dovetail.

"We're going to have a lot of fun this year, together," he said, his eyes, straight ahead on the pavement, turned for an instant to meet hers.

"But I won't be here! I thought you knew, Dick. It's the road company I'm going to!"

"The road company?" His face was blank. "But, good Lord, Shella, you can't take it then! The road company! Why, that means traveling!"

"Of course it does," Shella put in. "And I love it."

He turned toward her a face so filled with dismay that her own expression softened. Her hand crept out on the wheel to pat his own.

"But, Shella, you can't!" he insisted. "Oh, please—I want you here!"

"I've been here all the time, Dick," she replied uncertainly.

"I know you have, honey. But somehow I didn't know how much you mean to me until now."

They had driven far up the drive and were nearing Inspiration Point. It was barely 6:30. By choosing the least crowded thoroughfares he could have her back at the hall where the rehearsal was to be held in plenty of time.

The sky across the Palisades was rosy. The silver roughness of the river reflected every shade of the sunset. The park, high on the rocks, twinkled uncertainly with diamond-like lights, growing brighter and brighter as the sky slowly faded.

Shella straightened. Dick mustn't tell her now that he loved her. It wouldn't do. Both of them had so many other things to think about.

But did he really love her? Did she want him to tell her so even if it were true?

"I think we should turn back, Dick," she told him, withdrawing her hand. "It's getting late."

"Just as you say." He did not raise his eyes.

SWIFTLY the car skimmed down the drive, crossed into the park at 110th street and picked up the winding road through the trees. They reached 45th street at 7 o'clock promptly.

"I'll be waiting when you've finished," Dick said.

Shella ran up the stairs, her cheeks burning. Was Dick going to ask her to marry him? If she agreed what would they live on? Dick had said that he was the poor member of the family. He meant poor, no doubt, according to Trevor Lane's standards—not her own. Dick could hardly rent that lovely penthouse without a fair income. True enough, his home wasn't anything like the palatial quarters where Trevor Lane lived. Trevor's apartment was a show place—a perfect setting for the sort of parties he gave. Dick's rooms were cozy with deep, comfortable chairs, dark wood, his books, his fireplace, his cluttered table. Dick was a fine fellow, a real friend—but did she want him to fall in love with her?

As Shella took her place on the stage she tried to put all this from her mind. The chorus was going through its paces. Weary girls in practice suits, always willing, always cheerful under the most grueling, tortuous drilling. They looked little more than children. These girls received little pay and for that little they worked long hours, endured the bitterest criticism comments from sarcastic stage managers.

Shella watched the chorus stepping through its routine. Then the ensemble fell back against the wings and she fluttered into the open space.

"That's right!" the dance director nodded, seating himself but not raising his eyes from Shella's feet. "See that, girls! Watch how Shayne does that step!"

THE girls attained respectful attention. Black curls bent to blond frizzes and nodded approval. All eyes were on Shella's flying feet.

Countless times the chorus went through the routine. Countless times Shella fluttered down among them, smiling, slowing a step and repeating it for their edification.

Eight o'clock came. Half the chorus left abruptly, looking anxiously at their cheap little wrist watches. To be five minutes late might mean the loss of a pay check.

Shella stayed on. She was not in another show, as the dance director well knew. She could hear the horn of Dick's car honking impatiently through the open window giving on the street. Then she heard the car draw away to round the block. A traffic policeman had been responsible for that, no doubt! Presently she heard the car pulling up to the curb again.

Nine o'clock came. Nine-fifteen. Shella remained fluttering, weaving, twirling, her hair flopping, her heart pounding with fatigue, her eyes slightly flushed but her smile and her eyes serene.

At 9:30, on Dick's fifth round of the block, she appeared in the doorway. She smiled gratefully and stepped into the seat beside the wheel.

"Tired?" he asked.

"Terribly. The air will do me good, though. So will a little food. Have you eaten?"

Dick looked toward her in mild rebuke. "We're going to have dinner together," he said gently. "Now and always, Shella! Give up this crazy road life, won't you, and stay here? Please!"
